Event Descriptions

The NSS Unit of SIES Graduate School of Technology performed street play on 10th and 11th October 2022 near the canteen area. The main aim of the street play was to create a positive and healthy place for our future generation to live. The SE volunteers of the NSS Unit performed this play to highlight the different issues in our society such as Voting Rights, Women Suffrage, Social Taboos and Mental Trauma.

On day one, following two rounds of jingles, the play begins by presenting the topic of voting rights, in which the problem of individuals failing to vote in the voting booth and how it affects the country is described, and the audience is made aware that even one vote counts. The discussion then went on to the next topic of Social Taboos, in which the volunteers discussed the necessity of sex education, such as utilizing protection, and how vital family planning is depending on the family's financial situation. After two rounds of jingles, the play begins on the second day with the topic Women Suffrage, with the intention of raising awareness among the audience about contemporary issues faced by women in society, such as being denied an education and believing that a woman's life revolves solely around marriage. The message of the play was clearly communicated to the audience with the help of innovative songs, actions and dialogues. The audience enjoyed and appreciated the performance and even pledged to help change attitudes so that society can change for the better.

Impact Analysis: Street Play is an excellent communication tool to understand the problems of the people and help them come out of it. This also helps in grooming the students as socially responsible citizens and when they grow up they will be able to connect with the people easily. The school management has also helped us. Without any support from outside we have managed to stage this play.

Mangrove Cleaning-11th December 2022

The NSS Unit of SIES Graduate School of Technology conducted a Mangrove Cleaning Drive on the 11th of December 2022 at the Sagar Vihar, Vashi. This activity was carried out by The NSS Unit of SIES GST, Nerul.

The cleaning drive commenced at 8:00 A.M. with Rohit sir, who guided the volunteers about the importance of mangroves in the eco-system as well as how we humans are degrading these over a period. The volunteers were all upbeat and energetic, as a result, they stepped into the ground with the goal of removing as much unwanted trash from the mangroves as possible, including plastic materials, bags, shoes, wooden objects, glasses, and many more items that typically take millions of years to decompose and therefore affect aquatic life.

Volunteers followed the policy of collecting the waste into waste, that is, no plastic bags were used to collect the garbage collected from mangroves instead of it the waste bags that were found in the mangroves were used to collect all the small items in it. This drive was carried out for 2 hours, in which tons of garbage was collected.

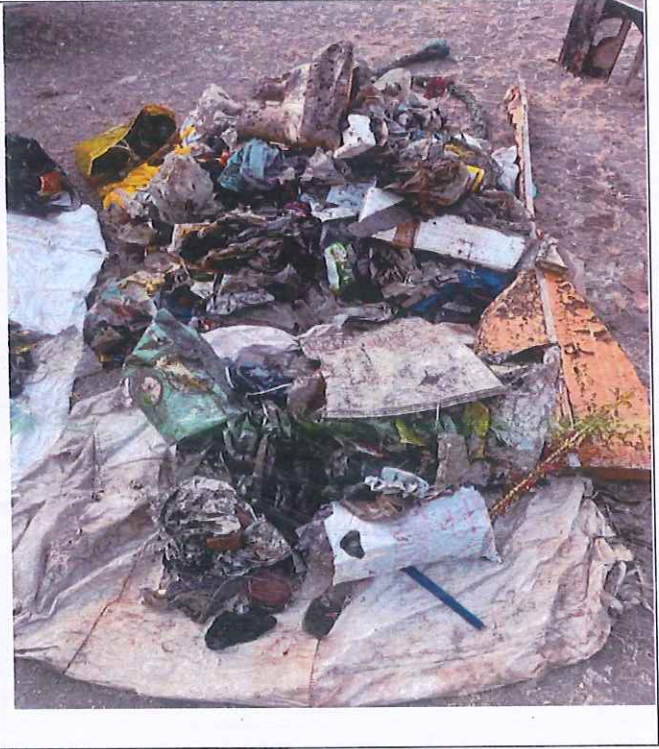

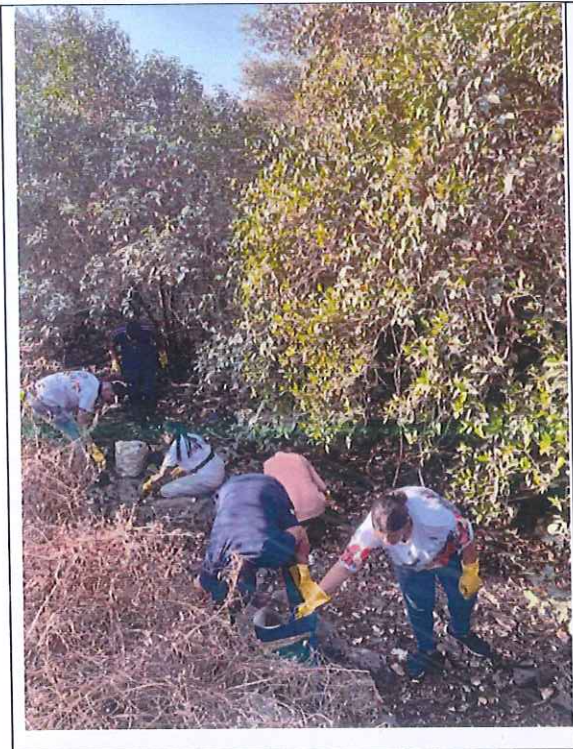

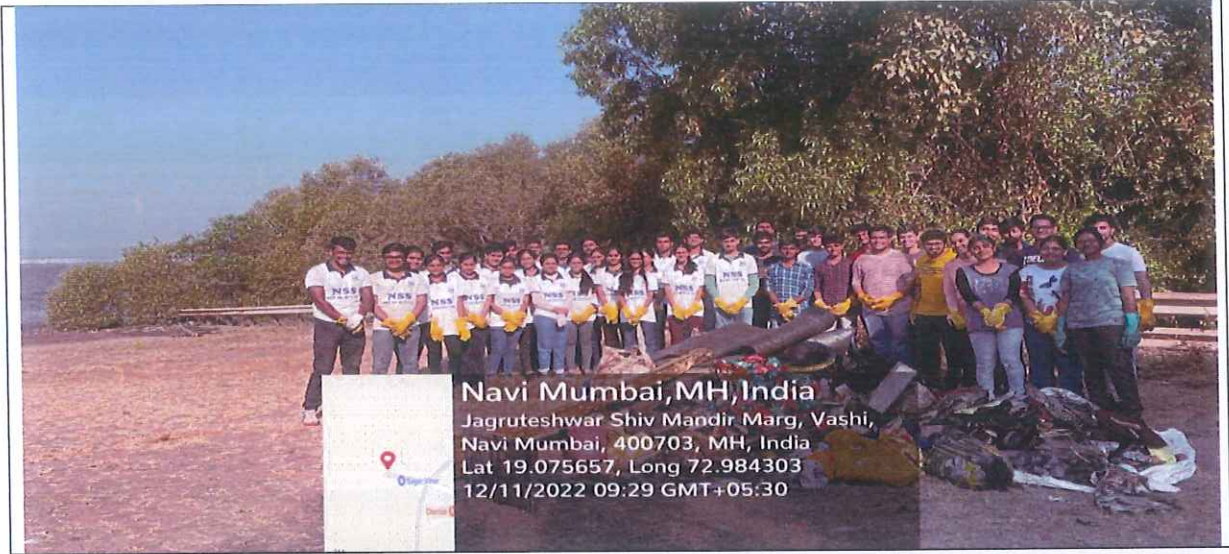

In total, 700 kilos of waste was collected from the mangrove and handed over to the Navi Mumbai Municipal Corporation. As the cleaning initiative ended, each volunteer was moved by a desire to prevent littering and to encourage others to do the same because this drive was an eye-opener to how the biodiversity and eco-system are deteriorating due to inadequate waste management and segregation by the people.

Impact Analysis:

The aim of the drive was to raise awareness about the environment among the masses. Mangroves are the one which plays the most vital role in protecting the city from heavy floods and Mumbai being a city sharing a boundary by the side of Arabian sea must understand the importance of mangroves. Separating dry waste and wet waste is the first and the foremost step towards protecting the mangroves hence now all the local authorities have made it compulsory for all the households to segregate the wet waste and dry waste before disposing it off.

The drive was a huge success, empowering the volunteers with substantial knowledge of the mangrove and its importance in the ecosystem.

Event Description

The Special Residential Camp organised by the NSS Unit of SIES GST was held from 3 January to 9 January 2023. Volunteers had to assemble at the Thane station at 7am. Once all the volunteers were present, we boarded the train to Asangaon. As soon as we reached Asangaon we boarded the bus to reach our destination which was Veluk village. The duration of the journey was for 2 hrs. After reaching the location we loaded our luggage in the gram panchayat office. All the arrangements were made by the seniors (Obs).

Later all of us were divided into groups and were allotted their respective duties. The distribution of the duties was according to the kitchen team, admin team, lost and found team, cultural team, and sports team. We went for a village tour to get a lay of the land. All of us communicated with villagers and introduced ourselves. We visited the proposed place where the dam was supposed to be constructed. We head back, had dinner, and wrote down all the things that happened in the day. We were asked to maintain a diary to record all our experiences. The next day we woke up at 4am. We started our day with NSS geet followed by jogging and exercise. We cleaned the school and its surroundings. The hallways and the classrooms were cleaned as well so we could sleep and keep our luggage. Later we were told to make pairs and were asked to communicate and build a bond with the villagers. So that we could know their problems and try to solve them. There was a language barrier as many of us did not have fluency in Marathi. All of us tried our bests to communicate.

During the initial days, we learnt about our surroundings and tried getting used to everything. We were divided into two groups – first group was digging and collecting the soil and plucking the grasslands. The second group was focusing on collection of stones and planning the formation of the dam. We had to lift 10 cans of water every day for our daily use. The main roles were digging team and transportation team. The actual work started from day 3. We had to dig the soil and refine the soil and fill it up in the sacks. This work was continued for the whole day and we had filled around 90 sacks. Our target was to complete around 400-500 sacks with only a few days left in hand. The next day our super seniors had arrived. They gave us immense motivation and confidence. There was a healthy competition between the digging team and the transportation team as who was more agile in their work. We achieved a target of 230 sacks today. Nobody could believe that we could have achieved it. This was only possible because of the guidance and encouragement of the seniors and the super seniors. And because of the combined effort and willpower of everybody involved.

As we were coming to the end, we had to stitch the sacks and transport it near the river for the construction of the dam. Sarpanch, Civil engineer officer and the other staff helped by guiding us in the construction of the dam. The digging team, transportation team and the stitching team were working vigorously. At last, the target was achieved. All of them had tears of joy and happiness. With the help of seniors and super seniors the dam was constructed. We also performed a street play for the villagers to spread awareness on taboo topics and provide accurate information. At night we had a bonfire which was a surprise for us. On the last day, we enjoyed ourselves. The best group was awarded a reward. We received our NSS batches that we were eagerly waiting for. We all packed our luggage's and head back to Mumbai with tons of memories and lessons worth a lifetime.

Impact Analysis:

The volunteers got to experience first-hand, what it takes to live in a village where modern facilities are lacking. The water was limited, there was no access to mobile phones and the volunteers had to work in the scorching sun to build the dam. It brought about a realization of the privileged lives we lead and how we sometimes take things for granted. Cooking our own food from scratch, building a dam by digging mud, filling it in sacks, sewing it, placing it on the river bed and stacking them up to build the dam, cleaning the village and doing some much more. Each task taught us something new and it took the effort of the entire unit to successfully complete them. We also performed a street play for the villagers to highlight taboo topics to spread awareness and clear any misinformation.

Impact Analysis:

Republic Day is the day when India marks and celebrates the date on which the Constitution of India came into effect on 26 January 1950 turning the nation into a republic separate from British Raj. The occasion of Republic Day brings back the memory of many sacrifices of our country's freedom fighters to attain purna swaraj (Complete Independence). But as the years have passed, the masses have forgotten those struggles and lost the passion and patriotism for our country. The short film produced by the SE volunteers of the NSS Unit attempted to portray the progressiveness and importance of the values and traditions that Indians uphold.
