SIES students do shramdan at Murbad village

Staff Reporter Neri
The National Service Scheme (NSS) unit of SIES Graduate School of Technology, Nerul conducted a seven day residential camp at Shai village in Murbad taluka, Dhule district from January 3 to 9 under the guidance of program officer Dr. Ram Bhose, area coordinator and Prof. Manal Khadse. Various activities were conducted for 52 NSS volunteers which mainly focused on the development of the village and themselves.

Talking to VASHI TIMES, Dr. Ram Bhose informed, "Each day begins at 4.30 am with a prayer and the NSS song. Then they were taken for a morning jog of 4km which was followed by yoga. After a tea and snack break, the volunteers proceeded for shramdan. Around 10 am they came back for breakfast. Again they continued with shramdan till lunch time."

He added, "After lunch, speaker sessions were organised to create awareness among the youngsters. These included awareness against superstition by Kajandra Koli, personality development session by Tara Shinde and snake awareness by Deepal Gupta. Dr. Vilas Patil, the Principal of SIES GST enlightened the students about various methods to use technical knowledge at the camp site."

Also NSS Program Coordinator of Mumbai University Prof. D S Bhave visited the camp and motivated the students to work towards a bright future and enquired the importance of social responsibility. Anil Ghosale, ex member Panchayat Samiti, Murbad also interacted with the students.

In the evening there were sports activities organised by the volunteers themselves. This was followed by practical development sessions and dinner.

The volunteers devoted 5 hours daily for shramdan. During this task, they built a check-dam, soak pits and huge sacks of plastic waste were collected.

The camp was greatly supported by the sarpanch of the village Narayan Bhair, all villagers and the youth.

"Through this seven day residential camp the volunteers got an opportunity to serve the people and learnt the importance of every basic needs of man," said Dr. Bhose.

Thanks to these boys, Mabiya's daughter can now go to school

With help from mid-day readers, there were enough funds for the acid attack survivor's daughter to receive schooling, but the absence of a birth certificate was causing in the way of admissions — till two engineering students volunteered to help

The two youngsters are final year students of engineering.

They traced the hospital where Anshu was born, and then the relevant BMC ward.

Frantically with their hands, they did not let the paperwork to that the 2-year-old could be admitted to school.

SUCHA PATIL

Sucha Patil, 28, had just received a letter from the BMC ward where her daughter Anshu was born. She had to go there to get the birth certificate. But she found that the hospital records were missing. She was told that the records were destroyed in a fire. She was told that the records were destroyed in a fire. She was told that the records were destroyed in a fire.

"We lost the birth certificate as the chawl in Sakdi Naka where I lived with my husband was demolished. When I hear my daughter say bye to me on her way to school, I will be happy. I thank these boys for this favour, for which I will not be able to repay them." - Sucha Patil

GOOD SAMARITANS: Two engineering students helped Sucha Patil get a birth certificate for her daughter Anshu. The students, who are final year students of engineering, traced the hospital where Anshu was born and helped her get the birth certificate. They also helped her get the necessary paperwork for school admission.

"When he handed us two copies of the birth certificate we were so excited that we felt we had topped an exam."
