

BEACON: Institute Social Responsibility

The South Indian Education Society has taken a significant step forward by making social responsibility a part of the education process. It was decided that each college in the group would adopt a village for its overall development and to empower the villagers. The SIES College of Arts, Science & Commerce, Sion West, took the first initiative by adopting a small tribal village in 2013 followed by the SIES College of Management Studies adopting another in 2014. The SIES Graduate School of Technology, Nerul has extended the initiative further by treading a different path. As part of the Institute Social Responsibility initiative taken by the South Indian Education Society, the Graduate School of Technology provides vocational training to the underprivileged sections of the society. The target group is orphans, street children, school dropouts and similar individuals between the age group of 18-30 years.

Beacon offers seven trades; viz Carpentry, Welding, Metal Turning, Sewing & Tailoring, Plumbing, Electrician, Screen Printing and Computer Operator, each having a course duration of six months including a foundation course for all. The courses focus more on practical hands on training with minimum required theoretical background. Each candidate is further exposed to the basics of grooming, banking skills, computer skills, spoken English, Mathematics, as part of the foundation course. At the end of the training the students are placed with service providers, contractors or in industries for internship. Until now, SIES GST's BEACON has trained 8 batches from 2016 and all of them have been well placed.

FE Induction - 2018

An Induction program was conducted by SIES GST for the new batch of aspiring engineers with innovative minds to give them an insight of the new chapter they were about to commence in their lives. It was a 5 day programme, starting from 30th July 2018 and ending on 3rd August 2018, where the freshers were encouraged to look beyond the textbooks and academic outlook by their teachers and seniors and dive into a multitude of co curricular activities planned intensively for them. The students were taken on a campus tour by the faculty and student volunteers showing the freshers the ins and outs of the college campus and making them feel comfortable in the new environment. The students were coaxed into interacting with their peers, seniors and faculty members to develop strong interpersonal bonds from the start. Several technical, cultural, sports and literary activities were planned with an objective to integrate a holistic perspective and an outlook among the students to give back to the society and develop a mindset to coexist in a pluralistic world in peace. The students along with NSS and SSEA volunteers planted 400 trees over the course of three days. The whole program was a successful attempt towards the embodiment of ethics, values and principles along with knowledge and creativity.

FE Induction - 2019

An Induction program was conducted by SIES GST for the novel group of aspiring engineers to give them an insight of the new chapter they were about to commence in their lives. It was a 5-day interactive session, which started on 7th August 2019 and ended on 13th August 2019, providing the students an opportunity to develop strong interpersonal bonds with their peers, seniors and faculties. All the newcomers were addressed by the student council in charge and Student Council President explaining the responsibilities and duties of the Student Council and all the student chapters that are inclusive. An interactive session of parents with the department HODs, class in-charges and the placement co-ordinator was arranged. The students were taken on campus tours by the faculty and student volunteers. A yoga session, self-defence workshop and tree plantation programme were organised. All the teams and Student Chapters conducted various activities for the students and gave a glimpse of the numerous events conducted by them throughout the year. A seminar on Blockchain, as a concept and how it has risen to the technological and economic paradigm was conducted. The entire motive behind the induction program was to take a positive step towards nurturing students who are not just good engineers but better members of the society.

Kerala Flood Donation Drive

In the wake of the disastrous floods in Kerala and the irreparable damage it had done to countless lives, the Social Service and Extension Activities team, Udgam, of SIES GST conducted a Donation Drive to aid the flood victims.

The drive was conducted from 18th August 2018 to 24th August 2018, in our college premises. All the donations were sent to Kerala House, Vashi after every two days during the drive. Students and faculty members actively participated in the donation drive. Other colleges also supported us and donated items to help the cause. We were able to collect items worth Rs. 72,000.

Few of the items that were donated were Bedsheets and blankets, Clothes, Biscuits, Sanitary napkins, Stationary materials, Footwears, Toiletries, Sanitation Kits, Baby Diapers Medicines, etc

By this drive students were enhanced in their social service skills. They learnt what 'Giving back to the society' actually is.

Waste Management

The NSS unit of SIES GST organizes this activity in various areas to collect various types of waste from shops. The main objective of this activity is to increase awareness and inform the course of action about waste management, storage and recycling. It witnesses a large number of volunteers every year and helps in spreading awareness about managing wastes like plastic.

It includes compost filtering, where the volunteers manage a compost generation plant, which is created by eco-friendly methods. Once a year, the volunteers of NSS SIESGST collect the compost and process it. This processing includes filtration and packaging. The packed compost is then sold and the revenues are directed towards social service activities.

Disaster Management Drill

31st January 2019

The Navi Mumbai Municipal Corporation (NMMC) conducted a single day accident management drill along with the volunteers of NSS SIES GST, which witnessed active participation from 26 students and 1 teacher. It was a drill on a realistic scenario based on an accident involving a bus full of passengers (each of whom had a preassigned injury) and a truck carrying chemical substances. A real life accident was simulated and various emergency services such as fire services, ambulances, police, traffic services, etc were tested against the qualities of response time, efficiency, critical thinking and event management. This drill couldn't have been possible without the contributions of Ms. Vrindhanath from the UNDP; the Municipal Commissioner, Dr. N. Ramaswami; Additional Municipal Commissioner, Mr. Ravindra Patil ; the representatives of Aga Khan Agency for Habitat and the heads of all the departments that were a part of the drill.
